Latest News

The Urban Mission item of the month for May is rice. Please place your donations in the box by the church information table.

Sunday, May 4, the confirmation class will be assisting in worship, as well as making their profession of faith. Following worship, there will be a time to greet our six newest members at a reception in the Fellowship Hall.

Men's Breakfast: On Saturday, May 17, at 8:30 A.M., the men of Memorial Presbyterian Church will hold their quarterly pot-luck breakfast. We will have as our speaker our own Doug Forsyth, who will share thoughts on "Trends in Oklahoma Weather". Come join us, as participants share their favorite breakfast foods, and also take the opportunity to have fellowship with one another.

Seeking Panelists: On Friday, November 7, 2014 at 6:30 P.M. in the Fellowship Hall, the Christian Education Committee is sponsoring a panel discussion on "Mental Illness and Criminal Justice." The purpose of the forum is inform the public on the significant number of people with mental illness being incarcerated in Oklahoma's prisons. The OK Department of Mental Health states that the largest mental health hospital in our state is the Oklahoma County Jail, and that this pattern is evident throughout the state correction system. We are informing you of this event at this early date because we would like your suggestions as to who could serve on the panel. We will need resources in law enforcement, mental health, corrections, the state legislator, the courts, and consumers. Any suggestions of fitting persons can be forwarded to Ruling Elders Harry Wright or Michael Yeager. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

A reminder that the annual Columbarium Memorial service has been moved to November to coincide with All Saints' Day. We look forward to worshipping and remembering loved ones with you at that time.

From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Friends,

There are many things in ministry that I consider to be a privilege: praying with someone who is going into surgery, having someone share their good news with me, comforting a family member who has lost a loved one, and home communion to those who can't be in worship. These are just a few of the moments I treasure. It is a sacred time to be invited into someone's journey, to share in the most tender moments of life.

I would certainly add teaching Confirmation Class to this list. Since last September, Karen Upton and I have been meeting nearly weekly with the youth who will be joining the church this Sunday.

In March we attended (with Samuel McCann) the Confirmation Retreat at Dwight Mission. I saw them engaged and eager to learn and to experience all that Dwight had to offer. More than one of the leaders told me what a great group of kids I had!

They are six young people who are curious about the Christian faith, particularly our Presbyterian beliefs. They are thoughtful, caring and energetic. They are willing to serve, to grow in faith, and to live out their faith in their daily lives.

Their faith has grown and will continue to grow as they carry out their calling to be part of the body of Christ.

Several of them were baptized in this congregation; some were baptized other places. At their baptisms, wherever they were, congregation members took vows to raise these (and other) children in the church. They and we have promised to guide and nurture them by word and deed, with love and prayer, to encourage them to know and follow Christ.

On Sunday they will make their public profession of faith. They take on the mantle of church membership, and commit to sharing in worship and ministry.

I would ask that you continue in prayer for these youth as they enter into this chapter of faith, and that you pray for and support all our young people, fulfilling the promises we made in their baptisms.

And my thanks to Jim, Kaylee, Lynemaris, Mariolise, Gysheilla and Kierstyn for making this such a wonderful year for your pastor.

Grace and peace,

Tracy

Clerk's Corner

Session met on Tuesday, April 22, 2014. At that meeting they met with the following members of the confirmation class: Jim Annoh, Mariolise Sama, Lyne-Maris Sama, Kierstyn Upton, and Gysheilla Tita-Jangha. These outstanding young people shared a statement of faith they had each written and answered questions from the Session. It was unanimous, these young people are ready and able to enjoy full membership at Memorial Presbyterian Church. They will make their public profession of faith on Sunday, May 4. Other actions taken by session were to approve several facility usage requests from the Narcotics Anonymous group that meets in our church. The next meeting of Session will be held Tuesday, May 20, 2014 at 7:00 P.M.

A BIG THANK YOU FROM THE YOUTH WHO ATTENDED YOUTH QUAKE:
(This is from 3 of the youth who attended, 3 more will be highlighted next month.)
Check out the photos on the bulletin board in the hallway.

“I’d like to thank the congregation for the opportunity for me to attend Youth Quake. Without the help of the congregation I wouldn’t have been able to attend. Out of all the lessons, the most meaningful to me was ‘Remembering Who God Is’ because everyone has trouble answering that question, so that lesson helped me understand God better. My favorite activity at Youth Quake was small group.”

Sincerely,
Gysheilla Jangha

“My favorite topic at Youth Quake was ‘Remembering Who God Is’ because I think of God in so many different ways. One way I think of God is as a path to go on to do good and help others believe in Him. I would like to thank the congregation for the opportunity to attend Youth Quake and let them know without their help and support, I would not be able to attend Youth Quake 2014. My favorite activity was the dance because it was a way for me to express myself and, of course, show off my dance moves.”

Sincerely,
Lyne Sama

“I would like to start off by saying thank you to the congregation for the opportunity of me being able to go to Youth Quake. If it wasn't for the congregation, I wouldn't have experienced how wonderful Youth Quake 2014 was. The most meaningful lesson to me was 'Remembering God Through Others' because I see people every day and when they do good things it reminds me of God my savior. My favorite activity at Youth Quake was the dance because it gave us a chance to have fun and interact with others.”

Sincerely,
Mario Sama

As one of the sponsors who accompanied these youth to Youth Quake, I want you to know that when I told them people in the congregation had sponsored them so they could attend, they wanted to know specifically who sponsored them so they could thank them personally. I told them many people contributed, so for those who did contribute, please know that these young people were overwhelmed with love and joy.

With love & gratitude for this congregation,
Joan Cole

Book Review: Musicophilia

Music as Therapy for Alzheimer's and Other Illnesses

by Tim Mauldin

Then you will sing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs among yourselves, making music to the Lord in your hearts. - Ephesians 5:19 (New Living Translation)

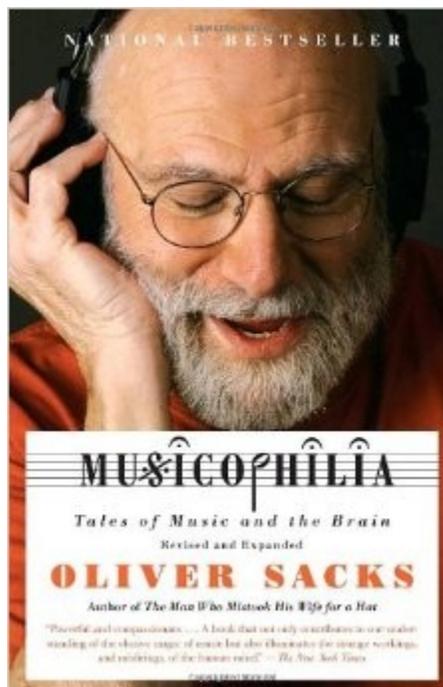

Oliver Sacks is a physician, best-selling author, and professor of neurology at the NYU School of Medicine. One of his acclaimed books is Musicophilia: Tales of Music and the Brain.

While the book covers several topics, of particular interest should be his concluding chapter, "Music and Identity: Dementia and Music Therapy".

The book makes a good case for the benefits of music therapy. From his research and experience as a neurologist, Dr. Sacks believes that music can aid aphasics and patients with Parkinson's, and it can help orient and anchor patients with advanced dementia because "musical perception, musical sensibility, musical emotion and musical memory can survive long after other forms of memory have disappeared."

Dr. Sacks indicates that music can elicit "emotions and associations that had been long forgotten, giving the patient access once again to mood and memories, thoughts and worlds that had seemingly been completely lost."

Musicophilia is available from Norman's Public Libraries, call number 781.11 SA.
